Frequently Asked Questions

Who is this for?

- Anyone wanting to work in Switzerland as a consultant, freelancer or self-employed but who does really want to spend time on all the admin overhead. It is also very useful if you have less than the Swiss legal minimum of a least 3 customers to qualify as independent freelancer.
- People who retired but would like to keep working on some paid for projects.
- Small companies not managing enough loans to be able to negotiate good rates for insurances and social charges and/or do not have an HR function or accounting team taking care of salaries for a few employees.
- Companies wanting to keep employees during a crisis. This presents a good and more flexible alternative to layoffs.
- Companies needing specific resources for a specific mission. Our system allows hiring people without requiring companies to issue a fixed term contract, just let us manage all of that for you!

Can I have customers in other countries?

- Yes, we can bill your customers in any country if you live in Switzerland. We can also work with cross-border workers if they work for a company established in Switzerland.

Am I covered if I have an accident while working or outside the work?

- Yes, as long as you work at least 8 hours per week we will insure you with our partner the Suva insurance.

Am I covered if I'm ill?

- Yes, we will cover you via our health partner but only after you are being sick for more than 30 days. This allows us to negotiate very good terms and we think it all makes sense as we know usually freelancers want to work as many days as they can!.

What about my pension?

- That's one of the biggest advantages of working with BeeU: we look after your AHV (old age insurance) and your 2nd pillar pension.

Will I get monthly and yearly payslips?

- Yes, you'll receive both from us.

How does it work in a nutshell?

- Once you started working for one of your customers, we will send them the bill on your behalf on a monthly basis. The bill will bundle our commission and all required social taxes, giving you your final salary.
